

Through its commitment to debating current social, political and educational issues is delighted to invite you to two webinars on:

Achieving Equity and Excellence in Public Education – Policy and Practice

Webinar Part 1 – Wednesday 12th October 2022, 10am BST
"Constructing the Agenda for Equity and Excellence"

Join the conversation between our presenters:

Anthony Mackay AM

Prof Pasi Sahlberg

Prof Alma Harris

Prof David Hopkins

Prof Chris Chapman

Webinar Part 2 - Thursday 13th October 2022, 10am BST
"Achieving Equity and Excellence in Practice"

About the webinar

There can be no national educational excellence without stronger equity of outcomes - equity and excellence are inseparable. Indeed, Equity is the surest path to Excellence in Education. There is far too little debate however over which policy levers and practical strategies actually enhance social mobility and equity and how to generate a consensus around moral purpose in education. The work of Hume Institute addresses this worrying lacuna, initially through these two Webinars.

Webinar Part 1 – Wednesday 12th October 2022, 10am BST - "Constructing the Agenda for Equity and Excellence"

A conversation around constructing the agenda for Equity and Excellence facilitated by Anthony Mackay AM, the National Center on Education and the Economy, DC.

- 10am Welcome – Hume Institute
- 10.10 Introduction Anthony Mackay AM and David Hopkins
- 10.15 - Presentations of 15 mins by invited colleagues on their view on constructing the agenda for Equity and Excellence and how to achieve it.
 - o Prof Pasi Sahlberg, Southern Cross University NSW
 - o Prof Alma Harris, Cardiff Metropolitan University
 - o Prof Chris Chapman, University of Glasgow
 - o Prof David Hopkins, University of Bolton
- 11.15 – Questions and Comments
- 11.30 – Summary - Anthony Mackay AM and David Hopkins

A supporting paper School Improvement- Precedents and Prospects will be circulated prior to the Webinar and provide a basis for the discussion.

Webinar Part 2 – Thursday 13th October 2022, 10am BST - "Achieving Equity and Excellence in Practice"

A series of presentations that focus on practical strategies for achieving Equity and Excellence in Schools and Systems facilitated by Anthony Mackay AM, the National Centre on Education and the Economy, DC.

- 10am Welcome – Hume Institute
- 10.05 Introduction Anthony Mackay AM and David Hopkins
- 10.15 - Presentations of 15 mins by School Improvement programmes on their view on realising the agenda for Equity and Excellence.
 - o Every Dundee Learner Matters, Scotland – Commentator, Prof Mel Ainscow together with Paul Fleming, Chief Education Officer, Dundee City Council.
 - o Curiosity and Powerful Learning, Sydney, New South Wales – Commentator, Stacey Exner, Director of Educational Leadership, together with Jessica Schadel, Principal, Epping Boys High School, NSW.
 - o Laboratory School Network, University of Bolton, England - Commentator, Prof David Hopkins, together with Chris Bingley, Assistant Head, Thornleigh College, Bolton.
 - o Foundation for Education Development, A long term perspective – Carl Ward, Chair of FED.
- 11.15 – Questions and Comments
- 11.30 – Summary - Anthony Mackay AM and Prof David Hopkins

Following the Webinars – A summary paper on the key issues raised will be produced, circulated and used as a basis for the Hume Centre's November and February Webinars.

Click here to register on the Zoom Webinar